"Meet Your Neighbours"

Get to know fellow South Jubileers!

Long before she moved to South Jubilee, we knew our current neighbor by sight and reputation– as did a generation of other Victoria parents.

Maria Elwood had built a thriving café and bakery in Estevan Village. Children loved the play-area, and Maria's beautiful cupcakes. Parents loved the cupcakes too, of course, but also the chance to meet friends and have a coffee in an environment that welcomed families. Maria was a familiar and friendly site and known to some of the children as the "cupcake lady."

Crumsbys closed its doors in (2018). With its departure a unique and vibrant community meeting place was lost. Some months later, Maria moved in near us on Davie Street, together with her husband Keith.

We thought we may have to build up to the idea of once again sampling cupcakes, but that idea got swept away: Maria and Keith are natural convenors, welcoming hosts and great community builders. Before long, they transformed their house and garden. Through backyard gatherings, we learned that – in addition to being hardcore pickle-baller - Maria and Keith moved here from the USA to raise their 3 (now adult) children. In Washington DC, Maria used her childhood education skills in launching America's first-ever child care center in a law firm. Even today, workplace childcare is uncommon. In 1988, Maria's work would have been ground-breaking.

Maria now has a different nickname. Her new grandchild, Emilia, knows her as Mia. So if you see her walking in South Jubilee with a brown dog (Addie) and a white dog (Finn), be sure to stop and say hello.
